

How the news bar looks under the head image and nav bar

The news banner is designed to display the latest infomation. It is placed under the nav bar for easy reading. The test being displayed can be easlie edited from the dashboard by an admin with access.

News bar sepeated from the rest of the site

The bar will be a solid colour with one line of text that streches across the same width as the head images and nav bar.

Diffrent styling for diffrent updates

For different events the news bar can be styled for specific events. Orange could be used for upcoming events, Green for new event added to the calender and red for canceled events.

There will be an option when the admin edits the news bar to send a notification out to everybody on the mailing list. We may add SMS notifiactions as well as email updates.
